Roses from Ecuador

Ecuador roses are famous for their exceptional beauty, and the temperate climate at the equator enables year-round production of high-quality roses. Moreover, the setting at altitude in the Andes means the roses grow slowly, which lets them develop particularly attractive and well-defined flower heads.

Continental Roses – our family-run rose farm – is situated in the Machachi valley, south of Quito, at the foot of the majestic Cotopaxi volcano. The strong equatorial sun, an altitude of 3050m and a yearly average temperature of 14°C are all conditions in which roses thrive.

We produce more than 25 varieties of roses over 6 hectares, which we then supply to Asia, Europe and North America. We leverage many years of experience in exporting roses and have established ourselves as a reliable partner for global customers.

We particularly prize the quality of our roses, which is why we are constantly striving to improve our production processes. We would be more than happy to send you a selection of our top-class roses, as tangible evidence of the quality of our products. Should you wish to know more, please don't hesitate to contact us.
